Slonem also collects Louisiana plantation houses (he has two, as well as a mansion in Upstate New York), which he decorates in fantastical exotica with eye-popping color, troves of larger-than-life Neo-Gothic antiques, his rich paintings and now, his woven and embroidered fabrics digitally printed on linen, carpets woven in New Zealand wool and wool and silk bamboo combination and wall coverings. Hunt Slonem, to the trade at Lee Jofa showroom.
